

MCLS Proctoring Policy

The Madison County Library System (MCLS) no longer offers test proctoring services due to the increasing volume of distance learners. Presently, MCLS is not able to offer the necessary secure environments, or staff members that can commit their time and effort as proctors to ensure the security and integrity of the exam process. To support our system's mission statement in regard to lifelong learners, MCLS provides a list of proctoring sites available in the Madison County/Jackson Metropolitan Area. The list of proctoring sites can be found on the MCLS homepage under Forms and Policies.
